Nature of Spiritual Purpose

M.O.M. is a multi-denominational evangelical Christian mission that affirms the centrality of prayer. M.O.M. encourages every follower of Christ to be devoted to prayer and to the study of the Bible as the source of Christian ministry.

Religious affiliation: M.O.M. is a Christian-based ministry

M.O.M. affirms the priesthood to all believers that every follower of Christ is a minister, gifted, equipped and called to be involved in the extension of Christ's Kingdom throughout the Earth. M.O.M. affirms evangelism and missions, intentionally reaching people who have never heard the Gospel and discipling those who have. M.O.M. affirms mercy ministries expressing the compassionate care of Christ.

Sources of Funding

M.O.M. is fully funded through donations by the church and individuals.

Organization Activity

M.O.M. is concerned about the needs of the total person: spiritually, emotionally, and physically. As Christ's representatives, M.O.M. provides assistance to help meet these needs.

Non-financial Needs of Organization

Volunteer teams are sent to Tapachula, Mexico and/or San Pedro Sula, Honduras annually as needed and requested. All M.O.M. missionaries are self-funded and work with churches and individuals to raise funds that allow them to work in the field.

Requested supplies

Prayers are for Adam and Jennifer Balduff and family in Tapachula, Mexico; Donna Zipperer in San Pedro Sula, Honduras; Ernie and Allison Sizemore and family in San Pedro Sula, Honduras; and Isaac and Margaret Mwangi in Kenya, Africa.
